Coronavirus Pandemic

The outbreak of COVID-19 and any future emergence and spread of similar pathogens could have an adverse impact on global economic conditions, which may adversely impact the Company's operations, and the operations of its suppliers, contractors and service providers, the ability to obtain financing and maintain necessary liquidity, and the ability to explore the Company's properties. Liquidity and Going Concern

The Company has financed its operations to date primarily through the issuance of common shares, the exercise of stock options and share purchase warrants and the proceeds from loans advanced to the Company by the Company's directors. The Company continues to seek capital through various means including the issuance of equity and/or debt.

The Company's consolidated financial statements for the period ended June 30, 2024 have been prepared on a going concern basis which assumes that the Company will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business for the foreseeable future. As at June 30, 2024, the Company had an accumulated deficit of $37,637,445(December 31, 2023- $37,566,794). In addition, the Company has not generated sufficient revenues to meet its operating and administrative expenses. These circumstances cast significant doubt on the validity of the going concern assumption.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS
Three and Six Months Ended June 30, 2024

In order to continue as a going concern and to meet its corporate objectives, which primarily consist of investigating new potential properties and exploration work on those potential properties, the Company will require additional financing through debt or equity issuances or other available means. Although the Company has been successful in the past in obtaining financing, there is no assurance that it will be able to obtain adequate financing in the future or that such financing will be on terms advantageous to the Company. Factors that could affect the availability of financing include the progress and exploration results of the mineral properties, the state of international debt, equity and metals markets, and investor perceptions and expectations.

The Company's consolidated financial statements for the period ended June 30, 2023 do not include adjustments that would be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern. These adjustments could be material.

Capital Resources

The Company commenced fiscal 2024 with a working capital deficiency of $96,479 and cash of $245,392. As at June 30, 2024, the Company had working capital deficiency of $167,400 and cash and cash equivalents of $153,703. The Company does not anticipate generating revenues in the near future.

Critical accounting estimates

Estimates and assumptions are continuously evaluated and are based on management's experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. However, actual outcomes can differ from these estimates. There are no significant estimates.

FINANCIAL AND CAPITAL RISK MANAGEMENT

Financial instruments measured at fair value are classified into one of three levels in the fair value hierarchy according to the relative reliability of the inputs used to estimate the fair values. The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are:

- Level 1 – Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- Level 2 – Inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 – Inputs that are not based on observable market data.

The fair value of the Company's cash, receivables, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, and loans payable approximate their carrying values due to the short term nature of these financial instruments.

The Company is exposed to varying degrees to a variety of financial instrument related risks:

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of an unexpected loss if a customer or third party to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations.

Concentration of credit risk exists with respect to the Company's cash. The Company's cash is substantially held with a single major Canadian financial institution.

Market risk

Market risk is the risk of loss that may arise from changes in market factors such as interest rates, foreign exchange rates, and commodity and equity prices.

a) Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates.

The Company's cash consist of cash held in bank accounts. Accordingly, due to the short-term nature of these financial instruments, fluctuations in market rates do not have a significant impact on estimated cash flows or fair values as of June 30, 2024.

b) Foreign currency risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the fair value of the Company's financial assets and liabilities will fluctuate due to changes in foreign exchange rates.

The Company is exposed to foreign currency risk to the extent that monetary assets and liabilities held by the Company are not denominated in Canadian dollars.

The Company operates in Canada, Argentina and Colombia and a portion of its expenses are incurred in Colombian pesos and US dollars. A significant change in the exchange rate between the Canadian dollar relative to the Colombian peso and US dollar could have a material effect on the Company's results of operations, financial position and cash flows. The Company does not manage currency risk through hedging or other currency management tools.

As at June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the Company is exposed to currency risk through the financial instruments denominated in Colombian pesos. Assuming all other variables remain constant, a 15% (December 31, 2022 - 15%) weakening or strengthening of the Canadian dollar against the Colombian peso would result in a change of approximately $48,000 (December 31, 2023 - $48,000) to net loss and comprehensive loss.

As at June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the Company is not exposed to any other currency risk.

Capital management

The Company considers its capital under management to consist of shareholders' equity. The Company manages its capital structure and makes adjustments to it, based on the funds available to the Company, in order to support the acquisition and exploration of exploration and evaluation assets. The Board of Directors does not establish a quantitative return on capital criteria for management, but rather relies on the expertise of the Company's management to sustain future development of the business.

The Company will continue to explore and evaluate its existing mineral property and will assess new properties and seek to acquire an interest in additional properties if it feels there is sufficient geologic or economic potential and if it has adequate financial resources to do so. Although the Company has been successful at raising funds in the past through obtaining equity financing, it is uncertain whether it can continue this financing.

Management reviews its capital management approach on an ongoing basis and believes that this approach, given the relative size of the Company, is reasonable.

There were no changes in the Company's approach to capital management during the period. The Company is not subject to externally imposed capital requirements.

Current Share Data
